

Intact Software has realised the importance of being able to process cash sales at the point of sale. One of the main features that allows speed of transaction processing is the ability to scan in product item bar codes which brings in full product descriptions and pricing details. Once the task of entering in the product information is complete, the system does the rest. Here at Intact Software, we realise that every single POS system we install has different requirements and so we tailor each system to suit their particular needs.
